PROHIBITION A SUCCESS IN KNOX COUNTY

There will be but a few to gain, say the statement that prohibition is a success in Knox County. Those who state otherwise do not want to see it succeed, either for personal liking for liquor or for personal gain.

A big factor in recent months has been the work of W. H. Green, Federal Enforcement Officer for this section. When a still sends forth a breath on the breeze, Mr. Green seems to sniff its tang and, shortly afterwards, it is not there any longer.

Before he took charge of this work, W. H. Green was one of the strongest and most energetic members of the Law and Order Enforcement League of Knox County. Since he has been given active control of enforcement measures he has run down stills and captured those running them with great gusto.

The absence of liquor in our community has made for peace and quietness and an absence of crime that is a great contrast to the days when it was flowing for those who would drink. It has meant a larger purchasing power for men who now spend liquor money on their children instead of on that which brought misery and crime into the family.

While it may have destroyed the "personal liberty" of a few individuals to sell the devil's brew, it has meant the personal liberty of many a good woman who heretofore was at the mercy of a drunken brute.

We recommend the quietly effective work of W. H. Green in his effort to put liquor entirely out of business in this section.

In this connection, it should be understood that, if his efforts are not sufficient, then he has behind him the great power that put kibosh on the Kaiser and his hosts. In other words, he is being backed by the gentleman with chin whiskers, whom we call Uncle Sam, a genial gentleman until he is "riled" and who then becomes a swiftly moving buzz saw who will have his will and to whom the "personal liberty" plea is a joke.

If the present punishments do not prove a deterrent, it is certain that Uncle Sam will go still further to the end that the Constitution, of which he is so justly proud, may not be made a thing of ridicule.

This is a good time to cut out liquor making, else the buzz saw may get the maker. It is better to live in God's peace and quietness than to lose liberty and reputation in fighting the law, which is sure to ultimately get the law breaker.

FARMER-McINTOSH

The marriage of Mr. Charles McIntosh, deputy jailor, and Mrs. Florrie Farmer, of Swan Pond, took place at the office of the County Clerk, Wednesday, Nov. 8th. Rev. John Carroll of Artemus performed the ceremony. They will visit relatives a few days before returning to Barbourville.

PROBATION SWEEPS DISTRICT

Congressman J. M. Robison

The of the Congressional District election was a victory for Congressman J. M. Robison by a vote of 30,000 to 25,000. He is doing the usual thing.

Figuring that it was Mr. Robison's election and what's the use of voting?

While we should have liked the full fighting strength of the District to have been shown, the Robison majority is a comfortable one and assures us of the splendid services of Mr. Robison when we most need them.

Congressman Robison left Wednesday for Washington to rest up after his strenuous speaking tour.

OTIS KILLED AT TROSPER MINES

The of Otis Rice occurred at Trospers, Thursday, Nov. 2nd, while attached to the electric line across the neck. He was killed instantly. The mine where the accident happened, belongs to the Consolidated Coal Co. Deceased was 20 years of age, leaves a wife, two brothers and a sister.

Good news better news.

HON. SAM KASH HITS THE ELECTORAL BALL

One of the distinguishing features of the election was the fine work of Hon. S. H. Kash on behalf of Congressman J. M. Robison. In every place in which he spoke the people rolled up a big Republican majority and when he spoke he addressed a crowded house. In Clay county, where he began the practice of law, the usual Republican majority is 1,500. The county this election gave a Republican majority of 2,500. Had Mr. Kash had time to go over the whole district the majority for Mr. Robison would have been larger than it was, even the satisfying enough as it was.

BRIDGE TEA

Mrs. Edward Scent and Mrs. Geo. Tinsley entertained at the home of Mrs. Scent on Wednesday afternoon with a bridge tea. The rooms were very cozy and attractive with a glowing fire in the big rock fireplace, sunshine streaming in at the windows and lovely yellow and white chrysanthemums in abundance.

High score was made by Mrs. Russell Kauffman and low by Mrs. Gibbs Lusk.

After the game the guests enjoyed chicken patties, hot rolls, cake, candy, nuts and coffee served at the card tables. Miss Blanche Scent assisted the hostesses in serving.

LOGAN HOSPITAL

Pat O'Hara was operated upon for appendicitis Monday and is convalescing satisfactorily.

Louis Shoupe was brought in on Nov. 3rd with peritonitis, following a ruptured appendix. A successful operation was performed and he is now on the road to recovery.

HOME IN CANNON BURNS BOY SAVES LITTLE ONES

When Mrs. Dan Tuggle, of Cannon went to the barn to feed the pigs Sunday morning while her husband was visiting a neighbor, three of the children were left in the house. Startled by the report of a shotgun which was usually left over the door of the home, Mrs. Tuggle turned toward the house only to find it in flames and by the time she arrived there it was ready to fall in. While the loss of the home and the contents was a heavy blow it was offset by the fact that the eldest child, a boy of about seven years, had had the sense to rescue the other children, one of whom was a baby a year old. The hair of the children was scorched by the flames.

ONE STILL, FIVE MEN TAKEN

Friday last, W. H. Green and a boy went hunting and bagged one perfectly good still and five men who were preparing to make a run on Straight Creek. Not having the opportunity to make the run or to run with their legs, they were arrested both ways and will face the court. As a go-getter, Hayes Green is gaining some reputation. While it does not seem to have percolated to many sections that it is against the law to moonshine, it really is the officers will get you if you do. So, so it would be well to feed the corn to the hogs and let the other game alone. It is too dangerous.

ARMISTICE DAY

On Armistice Day, November 11, soldiers are expected at the Post House at 10 A.M. Come either in uniform, but come. Am rations will be served.

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS EPISCOPAL CHURCH MEETING

Rev. J. Howard Gibbons, rector of the Church of the Ascension at Frankfort, outlined the work of the Episcopal Church in America and over the world at a meeting of the members of that church here on last Tuesday afternoon.

He said the missionary work is nothing more or less than the work of Christ and no one is a fully rounded disciple who does not have the missionary spirit. Missionary work means work over the whole world according to the divine command. The only hope for the mental, social and religious life of the world is the gospel of Jesus Christ. The keynote of the whole situation is stewardship. We cannot say truly "this is mine" since nothing belongs to us but all to God. We are but stewards of life, time and our means. God has given us the blessing of the gospel and we should give this blessing back to others. Faithful stewardship will show to others what God has done for us. If there is one set of people who should meet their obligations, it is Church people, since our promises are made to God and not to man.

$21,000,000 is asked by the Episcopal Church for the next three years and it is the desire to interest every church man, woman and child in raising the amount to the end that the work now being done may be carried on and extended.

November 26th is set as Every Member Canvass Day.

The speaker gave some interesting points on missionary fields.

OVERALL FACTORY BUSINESS GROWING

W. H. Detherage, of the overall factory, reports business good and the customers pleased with the output of the factory. This factory is growing nicely under the management of Mr. Detherage. Its growth will be a source of satisfaction to our business men as it turns considerable money into circulation. Mr. Detherage states that the manager of the suspender factory at Middlesboro was here to see him on business recently and it turned out that he is the son of the owner of the firm which supplies Mr. Detherage with denim, the headquarters being in Massachusetts and the visitor told Mr. Detherage that the placing of the suspender factory in Middlesboro was the direct action of the Kiwanis Club of that city. It just proves what may be done.

ELECTION OF CITY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Three members of the Board of Education were elected under the law this year. These were Robert W. Cole, Mrs. L. L. Richardson and W. R. Riley, who were re-elected without opposition. All of them have done good, conscientious work during their past term, which was the reason the compliment of no opposition was rendered them.

SUNDAY EVENING CONCERT DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

The first Sunday evening concert given under the direction of Miss Mae Carter, the new music director of the Christian Church, drew a crowd that taxed the capacity of the building. In a program so well balanced and delightful in every detail, it is impossible to single out any number as worthy of especial mention.

The choir selection was well chosen and rendered with strength and precision. Mrs. C. F. Rathfon, as soloist, was in splendid voice and as usual delighted her audience. The duets by Misses Morehead and Morris were beautifully rendered. These young ladies possess well trained voices that blend and harmonize superbly. An unusual feature of this program and one that called forth many expressions of pleasure from the audience was the musical reading by Mrs. George F. Tinsley. In this number Mrs. Tinsley held her audience spellbound by her dramatic portrayal of the role of an old violinist who loved his violin even unto death.

It is only fair to say, however, that the greatest interest centered in the group of organ numbers by Miss Carter. These numbers were chosen with that good taste and feeling, and played with that attention to detail which distinguish the real organist. This was Miss Carter's first appearance in pipe organ recital in Barbourville and those who heard her are loud in declaring her a master of pipe organ technique, and that she more than lived up to her reputation as a musician of the first rank.

Music lovers will be glad to know that this is only the first of a series of Sunday evening concerts which the Christian Church has planned for the winter months.

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB

The Woman's Study Club held their regular meeting on last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. W. Scent. After the business of the day, the Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Tuggle, took charge of the program. Mrs. Tuggle had a very interesting and helpful paper on gardens. During the social hour the hostess served delicious salad course. Club members journeyed to meet with Mrs. D. Herndon on Nov. 14.

JACKSON

Uncle Godfrey Jackson, 97 years of age, of Long Branch, Knox County, died at his home Tuesday, Nov. 7th. Deceased was a veteran of the Civil War and had a host of friends over the county, being one of those who smile their way thru life with a good word for everyone. It is said of Mr. Jackson that he never was known to speak a harsh word, which is a record much to be desired.

Besides his wife, a large number of sons, daughters and grandchildren survive. The funeral was held Wednesday in the family graveyard.
